Abstract: See exactly what's happening inside your patients with acute or chronic renal failure. Learn how to spot the signs of these pathophysiologic changes and intervene to prevent life-threatening complications. With this video, you'll get a wealth of in-depth, practical information to help you understand and treat these serious disorders. You'll learn: -identify key risk factors for renal failure. -understand how each type of acute renal failure occurs and affects other body systems. -spot the effects of each phase of acute renal failure. detect characteristic signs and symptoms of chronic renal failure. -teach patients to make diet and lifestyle changes to minimize complications. ...and much, much more. -- Blanchard & Loeb website.
